

BLERINA BANUSHI

PHD

CAREER OVERVIEW

PhD Blerina Banushi is a lecturer at the Department of Economics, Entrepreneurship and Finance, at Barleti University, and holds the position of coordinator at the Barleti Research and Development Institute (BIRD).

FIELDS OF EXPERTISE

- Finance and Financial Management of Public and Private Institutions; Risk Management and Institutional Performance

EMAIL

b.banushi@umb.edu.al

BIO

Blerina Banushi, Ph.D has completed a Bachelor's Degree in "Banking, Insurance and Financial Markets" and a Master of Science's Degree in "Financial Intermediary Management, International Finance and Risk Management" from Sapienza University of Rome in Italy, with excellent academic results.

In 2021, she obtained her Ph.D. Degree in Finance awarded by the University of Tirana (Faculty of Economics).

Ms. Banushi has been engaged in teaching and research activities in Albania and abroad for ten years.

Ms. Banushi has a wide scientific contribution in various research activities reflected in: a wide variety of scientific articles published in Scopus indexed journals, participation in international scientific conferences, as well as engagement in several committees of scientific journals. Moreover, she has been involved in non-periodical series of scientific publications abroad and in co-organizations of national scientific conferences.

Her research is focused mainly on financial issues concerning financial institutions and markets, with a specific focus on risk and performance management. Other research areas are the performance of public institutions, performance auditing in the public sector and economic and social well-being.

Ms. Banushi has also experience in financial management as well as human resources for private sector. Additionally, she is a third-party evaluation expert at ASCAL in the public sector.

Certified Foreign Languages: English, Italian